

Seminar co-organized by Tsinghua University Sino-French Research Center and Brookings-Tsinghua Center for Public Policy, Tsinghua's School of Public Policy and Management

Actors, strategies and modes of environmental governance in China

Date: April 2, 2018 from 1 :30 pm to 6 pm

Place: Tsinghua University

Limited registration ! Please contact Jean-Charles Galli : jean-charles.galli@beijing-cfc.org

Program

Each presentation will last 20 minutes and will be followed by a 10-minutes Q&A session.

1 :30 – 2 pm : Pr. Qi Ye, Director of Brookings-Tsinghua Center, School of Public Policy and Management,

Introductory remarks

2 – 2 :30 pm : Dr. Coraline Goron, Oxford University China Center,

Strategies of Environmental Information Disclosure and their Limits. A preliminary assessment.

2 :30 – 3 pm : Dr. Zhao Xiaofan, Tsinghua School of Public Policy and Management,

Pervasive Threat and Regulatory Compliance: Evidence from Energy-Saving Regulations in China.

3 – 3 :30 pm : Dr. Lu Jian, Tsinghua School of Public Policy and Management,

Interest-based, Rightful or Value-Driven Resistance? An Analysis of the Nature and Characteristics of Environmental Protests in Urban China.

3 :30 – 4 pm : A Rong, PhD candidate, London School of Economics,

Public participation: civic activities and political engagements – ENGO's community activities.

4 – 4 :30 pm : Dr. Lin Hong, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences,

From Oneself to Others: The Practice of Ethics and Volunteer Service for Environmental Protection in China.

4 :30 – 5 pm : Dr. Chloé Froissart, French Director of the Tsinghua University Sino-French Center in Social Sciences,

Toward a new environmental governance model in China ? Assessing the role of ENGOs in the law-making process.

5 – 5:30 pm : Dr Peter Ho, Qianren Professor, Tsinghua University, School of Social Sciences and London School of Economics.

The credibility of nature management: A new theory of environmental governance

5:30 – 6 pm : General Discussion